BANKERS MEET 5,000 STRONG IN BOSTON

Will Oppose Currency Bill; Small Bankers Favorable, Says President Wilson

BOSTON, Oct. 6.—The administration currency program is expected to be the chief topic at the thirty-third annual convention of the American Bankers' Association, which opened preliminary business sessions today at the Copley-Plaza Hotel. The chief discussion on this topic is expected to arise when a resolution is offered suggesting that the American Bankers' Association adopt a memorial petitioning Congress to adopt the amendments to the Owen-Glass measure, which were suggested at the recent bankers' conference in Chicago. It was made known for the first time today that there is a strong insurgent element composed of the smaller and rural bankers, who are openly in favor of the administration currency program in toto. The convention will continue through October 10.

Today's program consisted of committee meetings, the annual sessions of the executive council at the Copley-Plaza Hotel, sight-seeing trips around Boston including trips to Concord, Lexington and along the North Shore, and a water carnival on the Charles river basin. Practically all the 5,000 delegates from every section of the United States were here today. The entire membership will be in Boston by tonight.

Tomorrow there will be section meetings only and on Wednesday the convention will be formally organized. Vice President Arthur Reynolds, of the Des Moines National Bank, will preside, President Charles H. Luttig, of St. Louis, having died last July. People Approve, Says Wilson

The riot occurred when the police attempted to break up a meeting of the women addressed. Hundreds of women rushed the police to rescue Miss Kenney. Eight officers were seriously injured by batons, and one died. After the police had escaped with their prisoners, the suffragettes continued the meeting, auctioning off the helmets, clubs and guns they took from the officers during the fray, raising $500 to aid the suffrage cause.

HIGHEST PRICE EVER PAID FOR WALNUTS

ASSOCIATION FIXED CHARGES SATURDAY

Reports from State and Europe Caused Record Figures to be Named

	1912.	1913.
Walnuts, No. 1	14	16
Walnuts, No. 2	10	11 1/2
Walnuts, budded	16 1/2	19

The above prices were selected at the meeting of the directors of the California Walnut Growers' Association in Los Angeles last Saturday. Sixteen cents per pound for No. 1 walnuts is the highest price ever set by the California association's representatives.

The California Walnut Growers' Association is composed of eleven directors from various associations. M. Nisson of Santa Ana and R. M. Hargrave of Orange attended the meeting, they being directors of the general association. Nisson represents the Santa Ana Valley Walnut Growers' Association and Hargrave the Richmond Walnut Growers' Association.

A preliminary meeting was held three weeks ago at which reports from all the walnut growing sections of California were received. While Orange county reported a little better crop than last year, the state crop was estimated as coming on short of last year's crop. Since then reports from Europe prompted the association to stiffen the price. In the meantime, also, the California crop had suffered from an extremely hot spell that reduced the size of the No. 1 crop. Last year's crop was reported as cleaned up months ago.

These were the conditions that brought about the passing of a resolution advising the associations of this state to hold for sixteen cents for No. 1 walnuts, eleven and a half for No. 2 and nineteen cents for budded. The budded crop is but a small proportion of the whole crop.

The Los Angeles Tribune has the following: "Walnut picking in Southern California is now on, and when the rich harvest is over a crop of 24,000,000 pounds will have been gathered, according to freight traffic officials of the railways entering Los Angeles, who received final estimates from their statisticians yesterday. This crop on a basis of 12 cents a pound will put $2,880,000 into the pockets of the walnut growers.

"Shipments will begin during the next two weeks and the traffic men are now providing the necessary cars to move the crop to the big middle western and eastern cities for distribution throughout the country."

It is generally estimated that Orange county produces forty per cent of the walnut crop of the state, which will probably average better than 12 cents. Orange county, on the basis of the Tribune's report, will receive $1,152,000 for its walnuts this season.

The Anaheim Plain Dealer says that Joseph Ficus, the largest individual grower of walnuts in the Anaheim section, said that this year's walnut crop for the Anaheim section would exceed that of the previous season by about ten per cent.

"Since the beginning of the walnut harvest," said Mr. Ficus, "I have personally inspected a score or more of Anaheim groves, and am convinced that the local crop will exceed that of last year by about ten per cent. Some groves show a decreased yield but a majority of them will turn out more nuts than last season. The hot weather of two weeks ago did some damage to the nuts, but these will not be entirely lost, for they can be sold as No. 2's and 3's. I consider the present crop a good one that will bring good returns to the grower."

HINDU ALLEGED TO BE MURDERER OF FACTORY GIRL
RICHMOND, Calif., Oct. 6.—The police are seeking Said Ali Khan, a Hindu, who disappeared following the discovery of the body of Rosa Dominga, a beautiful Portuguese factory girl in the bay bound with chains. The Hindu is alleged to have exercised an influence over the girl alongside whom he worked in the factory. No clear of his whereabouts has been found.

Mussa Khan, Khan's room-mate, said if Khan is arrested he hopes he will be able to throw light on the mystery. He is sullen and refused to answer questions, and was held pending developments.

BURR HARRIS IS SUSPECTED SLAYER

Arrested in San Diego for Murder of Mrs. Rebecca Parker Gay in Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES POLICE PUT NEGRO THROUGH PROBE

San Diego Police Believe Real Murderer May Have Employed Tool

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 6.—Burr Harris, the Los Angeles negro arrested on suspicion of the recent brutal murder of Mrs. Rebecca Parker Gay, the Christian Science practitioner, in Los Angeles, was put through a severe cross examination at police headquarters today by Detectives Hickock and Erven of the Los Angeles police force. Harris was also confronted by Mrs. Cecilia Curry of Los Angeles, who claims she saw a negro in Mrs. Gray's office some time before the murder.

The examination was conducted behind closed doors and was a lengthy one. The result has not yet been announced. The officers, however, say they will leave Harris here for a few days. The San Diego police hold to the theory that the actual murderer may have been employed by another.

Reasons for Arrest
Harris is said to have left Los Angeles the day after Mrs. Gay's murder, later sending a telegram to his mother as to his whereabouts. Quantities of the water pipe such as was used in the killing of Mrs. Gay have been found on the Harris premises in Los Angeles. Harris refused when arrested to give information as to his whereabouts on the day of the murder.

Harris was at one time implicated in the murder of Mrs. Haskins near Compton, and was under arrest and stood trial on the charge of selling poisoned candy to Miss Helen Mathewson, who had been his benefactress.

Harris Will Talk
Detectives admitted today they had gained valuable information from Harris, but refused to go into detail. They admitted Harris at last had agreed to tell of his movements on the day of the murder.

SEATTLE TIMES PLANT SUFFERED $75,000 FIRE LOSS

SEATTLE, Oct. 6.—The Seattle Star carries today a first page editorial demanding that Gov. Lister call a special session of the legislature to consider the impeachment of Judge Humphries. As an alternative it suggested that the prosecuting attorney take steps to eliminate Judge Humphries from the county bar.

The editorial followed Judge Humphries' statement as a result of the fire damaging the Seattle Times plant, that the Socialists who signed the petition of defiance against Humphries were guilty of arson and should be arrested.

Fire Marshal Brighurst has as yet discovered no evidence to indicate that the fire was incendiary. He believes a gas explosion was the cause. The fire, breaking out yesterday, raged for two hours with $75,000 loss.

MANIAC THREATENS LIFE OF AN OAKLAND JUDGE

OAKLAND, Oct. 6.—A letter left at the home of Superior Judge F. B. Ogden threatens his life. The letter is signed "Adolph Addison," the name of a man whom the judge committed to an insane asylum two years ago. It said: "The Jewish day of atonement is at hand. Are you ready?"

Addison declared Judge Ogden had separated him wrongly from his wife. Judge Ogden appealed to the police, and detectives are guarding his house.

GIRLS SUE BIXBY FOR $50,000 EACH

Pitchers Bender and Plank, Two Stars of the Athletics

Here are Bender and Plank, two stars of the Athletics, the pennant winners in the American League, who will clash with the Giants of New York, the pennant winners in the National League. In the world's series to begin tomorrow, Bender and Plank will be relied on by Manager Connie Mack to win most of his games.

WORLD BASEBALL SERIES OPEN TOMORROW—WHOLE WORLD AGOG

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 6.—The Athletics practiced at Shibe Park this morning. There were no injuries and the condition of the players was perfect. Bender and Shawkey worked together for an hour, Schang catching. It is believed one of these will open tomorrow, probably Bender.

The team goes this afternoon to New York, where the world's baseball series with the New York Giants will begin tomorrow.

Athletics' Idol Laid Up
Jack Coombs, a crack Athletic twirler, lies in the hospital here with a fourteen-pound weight attached to each foot and an eight-pound weight at his head, dragging the vertebrae apart. He has arranged with his wife to sit at his bedside during each game with a telephone from the field at her ear reporting play by play. Coombs is an Athletics idol. When the club was championing recently, Mack had Coombs appear daily on the bench in uniform to instill spirit into the club, which immediately began to win. It was intended to have Coombs on the bench again but of course he is now unable to do so on account of a relapse.

SULZER DECIDES WILL TAKE STAND

Lawyers Oppose—Prosecution Reopens Case—Evidence Stricken Out

ALBANY, Oct. 6.—Governor Sulzer told his counsel today that he will insist on testifying before the impeachment court. His lawyers opposed such a course, but the governor has declared that he will endorse the statement of his secretary, Louis Sarecky, that if he had been crooked he could have received half a million dollars.

It was reported today that "Boss" Murphy of Tammany also wants to testify before the impeachment court. The Sulzer impeachment prosecution precipitated a clash in court today by formally demanding permission to reopen its case to call four additional witnesses. Chief Justice Cullen said he thought the case should be reopened. Attorney Herrick for Sulzer demanded the right to argue the point. The court granted permission and Herrick immediately assailed the good faith of the prosecution.

D. P. McDione, private secretary of Thomas Ryan, testified that he gave Gov. Sulzer $10,000 cash, in behalf of Ryan, and then testified that Sulzer asked him to visit Washington in an effort to induce Elihu Root to urge upon William Barnes the desirability of having Republican state senators vote against the legality of the impeachment proceedings. After this statement had been spread upon the records Justice Cullen ordered it stricken out.

PLUME-SNATCHING IS CONDEMNED BY SENATOR SIMMONS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—The news that customs inspectors snatched aigrettes from women's hats when they landed in New York from Europe Saturday has caused surprise here. This was never intended by the Underwood-Simmons tariff bill, according to a statement yesterday by Senator Simmons.

"I think such a course is beyond all reason," said the senator emphatically.

SNODGRASS AND DOYLE OF GIANTS BOTH INJURED

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—The condition of Snodgrass and Doyle is the paramount issue here. Snodgrass may be unable to start in the world's series tomorrow on account of a bad leg. In this event Slater will go to the center, with Herzog on third. Although Boyle's shoulder, injured in an automobile accident, is still troublesome, it is believed he will be able to play. The Giants played an exhibition game with the Philadelphia Nationals today.

The hotels and streets are jammed by base ball mobs today. Few large bets are recorded. The Giants' supporters are worrying over the reports that Doyle and Snodgrass will be unable to play. It is expected 100,000 people will jam the streets and the depot on the arrival of Athletics tonight.

Speculators are offering $3 seats for $25 and are asking $50 for seats at all three games. The weather bureau has issued the following statement: "We are pretty sure not to have rain tomorrow. A rain later is almost certain, however, because a storm is coming from the southeast."

NIPS DIVORCE OF TWO WED 43 YEARS

Judge Graham, Former Baseball Magnate, Reconciles Old Couple in 8 Minutes

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 6.—Superior Judge Graham, who as president of the Pacific Coast Baseball League, became injured to dealing with refractory players and hounded umpires, permitted a twinkle of his eyes when Annie and Martin Kane, married 45 years ago, came into his court to seek a divorce.

"Come into my chambers," said the judge to the couple, before he accepted the filing of the applications. Eight minutes later they emerged from the chambers, arm in arm. "What do you suppose makes old couples so foolish, your honor?" asked Mrs. Kane, smiling fondly, first at the judge and then at Martin.

GERMANY JAILS SAILOR DESERTING THIRTY YEARS AGO

BERLIN, Oct. 6.—Frederick Ankenker, the aged sailor from San Francisco, who was sentenced to six years' imprisonment for deserting from a German warship thirty-four years ago, today began serving his sentence. Ankenker deserted in Valparaiso from the German cruiser Hansa in 1879. He went from there to San Francisco and has been sailing from that port ever since. Past sixty years of age and homesick for a glimpse of the old Fatherland, Ankenker arrived in Kiel on July 18. Believing that the amnesty granted by the Kaiser in celebration of his jubilee, covered his case, Ankenker immediately reported to the authorities and made himself known. Great was his surprise when he was arrested, court-martialed for desertion and sentenced. Ankenker hopes that San Francisco friends will appeal to the Kaiser for him.

GOING AFTER BIG TEAM PRIZE

BIG FAIR AND THE GRAND ENCAMPMENT

Seventy-five Santa Ana Odd Fellows Will Attend During Week

Santa Ana Odd Fellows, probably seventy-five of them, are going to attend all or part of the sessions and festivities being given at Riverside this week during the grand encampment of the I.O.O.F. of California.

Not only are they going to be on hand, but they are going to watch with unusual interest the competitive drills, for Santa Ana has entered a fine twenty-four man team for the biggest of the competitive drill prizes. There will be twelve- and sixteen-man teams also, but it is for the big trophy that the Santa Anas are to march.

Major L. L. Vestal, formerly a major in the California National Guards, is to captain the team, and will put it through the paces in the competition against twenty-four man teams from San Francisco, Sacramento, Petaluma and San Diego.

Riverside will have a county fair at the same time the Odd Fellows hold their encampment in connection with the county fair.

Following is a summary of the distinguishing features of the events of fair week:

Tuesday afternoon—Free acts by high-salaried performers and program of track events participated in by the grammar schools of the city.

Wednesday—San Bernardino and Orange counties day. Matinee driving races in which some of the fastest horses in the Southland are entered.

Thursday—Odd Fellows' day. Exhibition drills and parade of live stock.

Saturday—Riverside county day. Motorcycle races, automobile obstacle races and other amusement features.

Encampment Schedule
The week for the I. O. O. F. state encampment is a full one. The principal events for today will be the prize contest in the patriarchal degree in the Women's Clubhouse at 8 p. m., and the general reception at Patriarchal Militant headquarters.

The grand encampment opening exercises will take place at 9 a. m. Tuesday, preceded by the ceremony of raising the colors at headquarters, participated in by the entire brigade under command of regimental officers and school children. There will be a brigade formation and review of Patriarchal Militant at 3 p. m., and at 8 p. m. will be held the reception to Grand Patriarch Davis and other grand officers.

The feature of Wednesday's exercises will be the competitive drill by Cantons at Evans' Athletic Park at 1:30 p. m. The forenoon will be given over to automobile trips over the city and valley, and the delegates will spend the evening at the county fair grounds, it being "Odd Fellows' night."

The first grand encampment session will occur on Thursday at 9 a. m., followed by a grand street parade. The evening will be given over to a band concert at Camp Ritter and ex-emplification of the Rebekah degree at the Woman's Clubhouse.

The sessions will close on Friday when the decoration of chivalry will be conferred on the courtesious grounds, and the prizes will be awarded. The day's events will close with a grand ball in the Glenwood Mission Inn and the Woman's Clubhouse.

LAND RESTORED TO PUBLIC DOMAIN

Large Areas of Land Reopened for Entry—Recommended by Geological Survey

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—Three quarters of a million acres of public lands were restored to entry last month. These restorations were based upon recommendations made by the United States Geological Survey as a result of its classification work in the western states. The only area withdrawn was one of 235 acres in California, temporarily reserved from entry because of its possibilities for developing water power. The largest restoration was in Montana, where 527,747 acres were restored to public entry as the result of coal classifications completed. In addition to this, restorations of coal land involving 214,742 acres were made in Colorado, New Mexico, North Dakota, Utah, and Wyoming. In California, Idaho, Oregon and Washington, 4,824 acres heretofore reserved for water power were restored, examination having indicated that they are not valuable for the purpose for which they were withdrawn.

About 83,000,000 acres of land have now been classified as to their coal content; 61,484,002 acres have been classified as non-coal land and less than 20,000,000 acres have been classified as coal land and values of over $760,000,000 placed upon them in accordance with the provisions of the coal land law and the department regulations. The remainder has been restored without classification.

The Survey has also classified as non-irrigable and designated for entry under the enlarged homestead acts more than 200,000,000 acres of lands in those western states to which the 320-acre homestead principle has been extended by Congress.

CLASSES ORGANIZE FOR SCHOOL YEAR

Committee Will Prepare a New Constitution for Student Body

The question of class organization was settled Friday for the coming semester. Raymond Adkinson, senior; Loftus Morrison, junior; Beverly Anderson, sophomore; Cecil Fross, A-freshman; Forest Roberts, B-freshman, are the new executives chosen by their respective classes. Other class officers and members of the student body board of control were elected at the same time.

Many high school pupils were surprised last Monday when regular lessons were assigned for the following day. A day or so at least is usually consumed at the opening of the term in arranging classes and getting settled down to business. This year, however, school started off with a rush, in spite of the fact that the surroundings were new to everyone.

"The Generator," the high school paper, made its appearance today. It is larger this year than last and will be issued on Monday instead of in the middle of the week as it was last year.

The student body constitution, which is but two years old, has been found entirely inadequate for the needs of the new school and at the assembly on Thursday a motion was adopted empowering the president to appoint a committee consisting of the principal of the high school, a member of the faculty, and four members of the student body to draft a new constitution suitable for the new school, and subject to acceptance, or rejection, by the student body.

Football, the first of the high school activities, is well under way and a good sized squad is turning out for practice every night. The boys are using the old grounds at Lincoln Park, as the new field was not in condition the past week. Next Saturday the team plays the Army and Navy Academy at San Diego.

NEW POSTMASTER AT BEACH CITY IS A REAL POSSIBILITY

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Oct. 6.—Advice received here from Congressman Kettner Saturday indicate that a new postmaster is to be named for this city, although the term of the present postmaster does not expire for more than a year. There has been much complaint of the service not only in this place, but from Los Angeles here.

The local board of trade has arranged for a celebration to mark the completion of the $70,000 reinforced concrete pier here. It is expected that the date will be fixed for some time in January.

Rev. J. Whitcomb Brougher of the Temple Baptist Church of Los Angeles, will lecture here on the 17th instant under the auspices of the student body of the Huntington Beach Union High School.

Clinton Howland Found Unconscious—Rides Home in a Dazed Condition

Riding a bicycle Saturday night about 8 o'clock, Clinton Howland struck a pile of lumber left on French street near Washington. He received a severe fall and was picked up unconscious. While he is about today, he has not yet recovered from his injuries.

The pile of lumber was in front of the house that Contractor Skiles is building for John Thoe. Howland saw no light warning him of danger. He remembers nothing that occurred from the time he fell until after he reached home.

He was found on the ground by T. J. Alexander, who lives next door. In a few minutes he recovered consciousness and was apparently in his senses. He mounted his bicycle, rode home, walked into the house and upstairs to his room. His mother, Mrs. H. E. Smith, found him there in a dazed condition with blood running from some small cuts on his face. Today Howland's head continues to hurt.

Yesterday Contractor Skiles called at the house. He said that he had left instructions for the lumber to be placed on the lot. He regretted the accident greatly, and offered to do whatever he could to help Howland.

THEODORE RIMPAU, ANAHEIM PIONEER DIED LAST FRIDAY

ANAHEIM, Oct. 6.—Theodore Rimpau, a pioneer of this city, died Friday. Notwithstanding the fact that he had reached the ripe old age of 87 years, many were surprised to learn of the sudden death of such a familiar personage. He had been seen in his yard only the day before his death and the evening before he died he sat up until 11 o'clock enjoying "high five," a social game of cards, at his home with his daughters and friends. He celebrated his eighty-seventh birthday anniversary Sunday. During the night he was overcome with a serious spell of stomach ailment that resulted in his death within a few hours. He, however, remained conscious until the end, every member of the family being at his bedside during the last hours.

Few residing in the Southland had such a life history as did the late Mr. Rimpau for he was here on the spot and had the pleasure of "watching California" grow from sage brush country to a beautiful, rich orange grove and other progressing industries.

Theodore Rimpau was born in Hamburg, Germany, in 1826 and came to this country in 1848 in the first steamer that sailed around the Horn, this trip requiring six months. He landed at what is now San Francisco, but then was called Yerba Buena and consisted mostly of sand hills. In 1849 he removed to Los Angeles, where he carried on a large business and it was in that city that he was married to Miss Francisco Adia in the year 1859. She died about ten years ago.

An interesting feature connected with this marriage is that the ceremony was performed by Father Sanchez, one of the pioneer padres who trod the "King's Highway," or what is now known as the El Camino Real, from San Francisco to San Diego on foot. Mr. Rimpau was the first foreigner who married a California maiden and celebrated a golden wedding.

In 1869 he left Los Angeles and came down to the southern part of Orange county, then Los Angeles county, on the San Joaquin ranch, where he engaged in the stock business. In 1882 he came to Anaheim and entered into the wine industry. In addition to his extensive stock business on the San Joaquin ranch and the wine industry, he launched into the mercantile business in Anaheim, conducting one of the leading stores here for twenty years.

Mr. Rimpau bore the distinction of being the first mayor of Anaheim, the mother colony city had, and served on the city council board for two terms. In the old Central grammar school building, which stands here now and where his children all were started on their educational career, he served as one of the trustees for twenty-five years. He was the only remaining member of the Rimpau family. His father was a nobleman in the old country, being a distant relative of the royal family. The Rimpau ancestors existed 400 years ago. This is as far back as could be traced, and at that account the search was ended. Mr. Rimpau owned three vineyards plying between San Pedro and San Francisco, and these were all burned

COLLEGE HAZING

Formerly the college freshman said good-by to Mamma with tearful premonitions of battle. Visions of midnight baths under the cold town pump were seen by female relatives.

If of a shrinking and timorous disposition, he "sporting his oak," following the old English phrase for "barring his door." A good stout bolt was a necessary armament. This spirit of reserve only tempted the militant sophomore to tease him the more. Freshmen of greater confidence argued that if you look a wild beast in the eye he lets you alone. They trusted to social graces "to win their way without friction," and usually succeeded.

In justification of hazing it was commonly said that only the fresher and more "smarts" youths were attacked, and that those received a needed training in humility of spirit. Undoubtedly many supercilious young sprouts did receive some highly profitable lessons.

One trouble with hazing was that physical penalties were commonly resorted to. A college sophomore is not an expert in physical culture. While cold bathing is beneficial, a ducking in the college pond on a cool autumn night is not necessarily wholesome to all types of physical development.

On one side there was the advantage of a year of physical growth and muscular training. The sophomores were well organized, banded together under known leaders. If the freshmen attempted to do battle for God and native land, the chances were two to one against them.

Thus the custom violated the principle of fair play and is steadily dying out. Modern fraternity initiations take its place to some extent. As their aim is mostly to put a fellow in absurd positions rather than subject him to physical hurts, this is pretty much harmless.

PRESENT DAY FOOTBALL

In the days of mass plays and flying tackles at foot ball, the game admittedly developed endurance and courage. Some of its more robust adherents were not over favorable to the recent more open game. Would a dehorned sport develop a rugged manliness?

Several other fatal accidents, with other mishaps, suggest that it is still not sufficiently denatured to lose such virtues. Indeed, if the average spectator had his way, other changes would take place.

The big foot ball games draw crowds exceeding almost anything in baseball. This is partly because there are relatively few chances to see good foot ball, and attendance concentrates in great crowds. After all it is only a fraction of the people who see foot ball.

The people who control football should reflect on the conditions that make baseball the foremost sporting interest. The enormous patronage of baseball is due in part to its clean, open beauty. Every movement of every player is photographed on the eye. When a dozen men pile in a heap at foot ball, the whole thing seems only a frame-up in which umpires and referees are the real players.

There has been remarkable improvement during the past few years. It still remains a superb training. Still, there are too many chances for the "put him out of business" style of play. Too frequently a man's knees connect with the other fellow's stomach. The array of substitutes suggests a feeling that casualties are a necessary part of the game. If they were comprehensively scored, they might be regarded as like sacrifice hits at baseball.

What the average adult spectator would like is a wide open game, free running, restricted tackling, frequent kicking and scoring.

Health experts in convention in Colorado considered how to make the country more healthful. Doubtless some day the lawyers will convene and discuss methods of making the country more law abiding.

One wonders where those unsophisticated Canadians learned to recognize the game of draw poker that they said Mr. Jerome was playing.

OUR WEEKLY SERMON

Preached by Rev. D. Scarborough at Spurgeon Memorial M. E. Church, South, on Sunday Morning, October 6, 1913.

Text—For God so Loved the World, that He gave His only Begotten Son, that Whosoever Believed in Him Should not Perish, but have Everlasting Life." St. John 3, 16.

The subject for our consideration this morning is The Love of God to Mankind. There is no theme that would be more appropriate for this communion service than that set forth in the text which I have announced. The greatest manifestation of the love of God for man was the gift of His Son for the salvation of the world, and the highest act of devotion to Jesus Christ is the proper celebration of the Lord's Supper.

This text gives us the very heart of the gospel and in a condensed way states the plan of salvation as provided through Jesus Christ our Lord. The subject stated is a great one, and in the short time in which I have to speak I can do nothing more than merely touch upon a few of the main points which come teeming into my mind for discussion. Our remarks will be grouped under four heads of thought, viz:

1. Man is the only being upon whom God bestows His love.

2. The sense in which God loves mankind.

3. The attributes of God's love for His creature, man.

4. The manifestations of God's love for man.

We shall first consider the fact that:

1. Man is the only being upon whom God bestows His love. In the account of creation we are told that God was pleased with the work of His hands, and that when He looked upon everything which He had made He pronounced it good, but nowhere in the Bible is it even intimated that He loved any of His creatures except man whom He had created in His own image and into whose nostrils He breathed the breath of immortality. We do not understand our Saviour in the text to refer to the material world, but to the world of mankind. No doubt God is interested in the development of the material resources and physical forces which He has created and arranged for the use and good of man, but He does not descend to bestow the affection of His father heart upon the temporal and perishable things which He has made. It remains for man in his fallen condition to love the things of this material world.

Let us pass on now to consider:

II. The sense in which God loves mankind.

1. Some one has said that when love refers to excellence in the object loved it is called esteem. It was this conception of love that the Apostle Paul had in mind when writing to the Church in Thessalonica (1 Thes. 5, 13) he admonished the members to esteem their ministers very highly in love for their works' sake. Because of their high vocation and the holy character of their lives, these Christians were urged to have an esteeming love for the apostles and early ministers of the gospel. It is in this sense that God loves the human race. Our vocations are not always high and honorable and there is a useful lack of that holiness of life that should characterize the children of the Most High.

2. When arising from a sense of benefits received love is called gratitude. It was a grateful love that St. John was talking about when he said (1 John, 4, 19) "We love Him because He first loved us." God has received no benefits or blessings from mankind, and therefore His love for the race is not a grateful love.

3. When love is prompted by a desire to seek the welfare of those loved, it is called benevolence. This is the sense in which God loves mankind. "For God so loved the world, that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life."

We next consider:

III. The attributes of God's love.

1. It is boundless. It runs out to the whole world of mankind. Every race and class of men on earth alike receive His blessings and are the objects of His love. He is no respecter of persons, and is equally concerned about the welfare of the white and the black man, the brown and red races, and all other peoples of earth.

2. The love of God is unchangeable. "I am the Lord, I change not." Men change in their opinions and sentiments, and their love is a fluctuating sort of thing, but the Lord is the same yesterday, today, and forever. Whether we love and serve Him or sin against Him, He loves us still. Our friends today may be our enemies tomorrow. Like David (Psa. 41, 9) our own familiar friends in whom we trust, and who eat of our bread may lift up their heels against us. It is possible for the mothers who bore us and the fathers who have cared for us to cast us off, but God's word says: "When my father and my mother forsake me, then the Lord will take me up. Psa. 27, 10."

3. Let us pass on to notice in the next place that God's love is forbearing. We often become impatient with unstable and vacillating people. The peculiarities and strange ways of others sometimes worry and vex us. We very soon cease to bear with those who persist in treating us unkindly. Not so with our Heavenly Father. Whether in the spirit of grateful worship we praise Him, or in the spirit of defiance we blaspheme His holy name, He never becomes impatient with us. He bears with us in our sins, spares our lives, and blesses us in a thousand ways. Oh, how gratefully we should love and serve Him!

4. The love of God to man is inexpressible. There is no word in any language of the earth that is strong enough to state it. The Apostle John (1 Jno. 3, 1) in writing about it, said: "Behold what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us." A somewhat vague expression, but it was the strongest the apostle could make with reference to the love of God. He called upon all men to "Behold" the love of God—to look at the demonstrations of it and thereby get some idea of it. We can form some conception of God's love to us by considering what His love has led Him to do for us. We therefore proceed to the next and last step of our discussion:

IV. The manifestations of God's love.

1. We see it in the work of creation in the bountiful provision He has made for the temporal happiness and welfare of man. He has created and so distributed the resources of wealth that it is possible for men everywhere to make an honest living and enjoy life in this world. He put fertility in the soil, sends the sunshine and showers, and fixed all the conditions that guarantee a living to every one who will work. Out of the abundance with which He blesses the able-bodied, God intends to supply the needs of the unfortunate ones who may not be physically able to earn a living. To encourage the prosperous to administer to the wants of the poor and needy, He has said: "Blessed is he that considereth the poor; the Lord will deliver him in time of trouble" (Psa. 41, 1).

2. The greatest manifestation of God's love to a lost world was in the gift of His only begotten Son to die for the salvation of men. The human race did not deserve salvation at so great a cost to God the Father, yet His great love constrained Him to go to the limit in providing a scheme of redemption that would be sufficient for every creature of the race. Truly has the poet said:

"Could we with ink the ocean fill,
And were the skies of parchment made,
Were every blade of grass a quill,
And every man a scribe by trade,
And write the love of God above,
Would drain the ocean dry,
The scroll could not contain the whole
Though stretched from sky to sky."

I like to sing that old hymn, the chorus of which is:

"The half has never yet been told
Of love so full and free."

Now as we gather around this altar today to commemorate the death and sufferings of our Lord Jesus Christ, let us pray that our hearts may be filled with the love of God and that we may serve Him better through the years that are to come.

Do You Realize that a

The high and the low, the rich and the poor—all alike come in for an equal share of His love and blessings. Human love is defective in that it is confined to loved ones, relatives, and friends. Men have a divine love, when they come to love as God loves.

2. The love of God is unchangeable. "I am the Lord, I change not." Men change in their opinions and sentiments, and their love is a fluctuating sort of thing, but the Lord is the same yesterday, today, and forever. Whether we love and serve Him or sin against Him, He loves us still. Our friends today may be our enemies tomorrow. The Los Angeles Conference of the M. E. church, South, will be held in Santa Ana, beginning Wednesday morning, Oct. 22, and continuing through Sunday, the 29th inst. Bishop R. G. Waterhouse, D. D., will preside. I hereby extend to all the pastors of Santa Ana and their congregations a most cordial invitation to attend the sessions and preaching services of the conference.

Perhaps it will not be out of place to give, just here, some statistics concerning the work of our branch of the Christian church.

We have in the United States 4750 local preachers and 7000 itinerant preachers, making a total of 11,750 ministers. We have 2,000,000 members, and 17,000 churches. Our church buildings are valued at $50,193,598. Our 5250 parsonages are valued at $10,354,192. There are 129,550 teachers at work in our 16,664 Sunday schools, whose membership is 1,337,245. There are 150,758 young people banded together in our Epworth League. The church raised $1,250,000 for missions last year. At the recent missionary conference at Waynesville, N. C., a connection was taken amounting to $152,000. $20,000 of this amount will be used in mission work among the negroes of the South.

We have three universities, 101 colleges, and 55 academies and high schools. We have two special institutions for training missionaries and Christian workers. They are the Methodist Training School for Christian Workers at Nashville, Tenn., and the Scarritt Bible and Training School at Kansas City, Mo.

We help to maintain five colleges for the education of negroes in the South. These institutions are located at Jackson, Tenn., Birmingham, Ala., Holly Springs, Miss., Augusta, Ga., and Tyler, Tex.

The church at present is building the University of Dallas, which will increase the number of our universities to four. The buildings now under construction will cost $1,000,000. An endowment of $1,000,000 has been secured and a campaign has been inaugurated to raise another million dollars.

I have neither the time nor space to quote statistics of our work in the mission field. We have prosperous and growing missions in China, Japan, Korea, Cuba, South America, Mexico, and Africa.

Those who attend the approaching session of the conference will hear some of our connectional officers who will speak to us about the different departments of work throughout the church.

Before closing this article I wish to say something about our work in California. Our denomination is not so strong in the West as it is in the East. There are several reasons for this, but we have not the time to speak of them. In California we have two conferences, 165 preachers, 150 churches valued at $1,905,350, 101 parsonages valued at $246,200. We have 96 Epworth Leagues with 3504 members, 143 Sunday schools with 12,550 scholars. Throughout the state last year the church raised for all purposes $292,559.

Just a few words in conclusion about our work in Santa Ana. Our parsonage and church building, together with the lots are valued at $35,000. There is no indebtedness on either. Both buildings are in good condition and well insured. We have 425 members, and the church raised for all purposes last year $6250. The number of members received this year is greater than the number received during the two years preceding. Our Sunday school, Epworth League and Missionary societies are in good shape and making gratifying progress.

With gratitude to God for His blessings during the year, and with due appreciation of the many kindnesses shown us by our members and other Christian people of Santa Ana, we close the conference year under encouraging circumstances and face the duties of the future with courage that is full of hope.

TUNA FISHING BEST IN BEACH'S HISTORY

For several weeks tuna fishing has been better off Newport Beach than ever before in the beach's history. In the last week twenty-four of the gamey fish have been caught with light line and tackle off the 9-9 launch Yesterday Earl Glenn, Alec and William Jeffrey, William Cheney and T. M. Hill on that launch caught six tuna. Glenn played one of the fish for two hours and lost him at gaff. Thirty-nine tuna were taken with throw-lines by fishermen in another launch that went out from Newport Beach.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY PARTY

Charming Decorations, Merry Games and Dainty Concoits for Juvenile Event

One day at least in one's lifetime should be made decidedly different from all other days; joys should be dealt out more lavishly and extra pains and preparations spent in making that one day a perfect delight that it may be recalled in after years as the happiest day of all. So it was that Margaret McElree celebrated her eleventh birthday last Saturday afternoon in an unusual and satisfying way.

Eighteen little friends were invited to help her make it a memorable event. Materially adding to the charm of the occasion were the beautiful decorations which Mrs. McElree greatly enjoys originating and planning and which were a complete surprise to the little lassie whose birthday was being honored. It developed after the little guests had arrived and were in the midst of their merry-making that Margaret's mother had celebrated her eleventh birthday on a particular Saturday in very much the same manner as Miss Margaret's natal day was celebrated Saturday.

Deviating from the "birthday-cake" custom, two fairy-like dolls gracefully adorned the center of the table, suspended in swags from the electric light, whose soft, mellow light converted the dining room into a fairy picture with real live white-gowned fairies chatting and laughing about the table.

Red and white were the colors used in the decorative scheme that made the scene a charming one to the children. Streamers in those tints were fastened to candy tripods and each revealed a tiny booklet when traced to the receptacle guarded by one of the doll-fairies. Each booklet contained a list of those present. Dutch wind-mills with red fans marked the places and red and white tiny baskets held the dainty red mints. Most charming of all were the cut little fairies dressed in red and white tulle.

The Parent-Teacher's Association of Spurgeon school will meet tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at Spurgeon school building, South Scamere street.

MOVING PICTURES IN SAN BERNARDINO CO. WILL BE CENSORED

San Bernardino county parents and teachers are taking action for clean moving pictures in that city. The members of the Federation of Parent-Teachers Associations of the county will cooperate with the juvenile court work by immediately appointing committees to censor motion pictures.

This action was adopted by a meeting at Bloomington attended by a hundred representatives. It is an action that might well be taken by other counties and cities.

One mounted on frosted cakes that delighted the heart of each little guest. The ice cream added in carrying out the color scheme and all the little ones could eat at their disposal. The only disappointment of the afternoon was the failure of the camera man to appear, but the little girls have arranged to have that feature attended to in the near future.

As the juvenile ones departed they acknowledged that the invitations had not been amiss. They ran thus: "O do come to my party next Saturday afternoon; You sure will have the swellest time that you'll have very soon."

The little folks who helped Margaret to enjoy the delightful afternoon were Beatrice Anderson, Elizabeth Anderson, Helen Randall, Anita Cain, Muriel McPhee, Donna Horton, Marion Baker, Ruth Cope, Mabel Roberts, Grace Dickey, Anna Grace McElree, Naomi Lucas, Evelyn Larson, Nellie Larson, Exline Smith, Blossom Draper and baby Geneva McMath. Mrs. J. M. Cain and Mrs. McMath assisted in waiting on the little guests.

Supplementary to the party, Margaret was a luncheon guest of her grandmother, Mrs. John McElree, and grandma and grandpa McElree in turn made the day complete by taking supper with Margaret.

P. E. O. SOCIETY MEETS

Social Feature Prevails in First Meeting for Season of Culture Society

Chapter AB, P. E. O., inaugurated its season last Saturday with an elaborate twelve o'clock breakfast at the pretty home of Mrs. O. H. Egge, 1330 Bush street. The event was almost entirely of a social nature, only a brief business session being held after the breakfast. All of the membership of twenty, excepting Mrs. Carl Strock and Mrs. Roy Peterson, was present at the breakfast.

The table was beautifully appointed and decorated. Marguerites, the club flower, were massed in a floral mound in the table's center, and five-pointed stars, the club emblem, were at the places. The stars bearing the names of the guests were hand-painted, and were the handiwork of Miss Frances Egge, the small daughter of the hostess. The breakfast, served in four courses, was a sumptuous repast.

The roll call that opened the brief business session, was responded to by childhood reminiscences, a feature that proved to be the source of much merriment. The afternoon following was given over entirely to sociability and was most enjoyable. The next meeting was announced to be held at the home of Mrs. Roy Peterson.

Those at this first pleasant meeting besides the hostess were: Mesdames Wilbur Palmer, L. L. Whitson, Fred Rowland, R. L. Miles, L. A. Collier, M. J. Jordan, John Tubbs, Henry Rutherford, Hart Kittle, Will McFadden; Misses Gertrude Montgomery, Hutoqua Hossler, Jennie McFadden, Mary Wakeham, Susan Cloyes, Margaret Wakeham.

The committee in charge of Saturday's breakfast consisted of Mrs. Egge, Mrs. L. L. Whitson and Miss Margaret Wakeham. The ladies were complimented on the successful breakfast which was the feature of the meeting.

AMUSEMENTS

At the Auditorium

A big feature act on the bill at the Auditorium the first part of the week is the famous Basy troupe of acrobats, dancers and instrumentalists, of the Imperial Theater of Moscow, Russia.

This great attraction comes here directly from the Tivoli Opera House of San Francisco, where they have been playing as a special feature in the "Bohemian Girl."

They are one of the highest paid acts on the vaudeville stage today, and it was only by a streak of good luck and quick action on the part of the management that the Auditorium Theater was able to secure them.

This special attraction is only one of three big acts on the bill, and the public is assured that it is one of the best programs ever offered in this city. The prices of admission remain the same.

ODDS AND ENDS

Verdigris on metal can be quickly removed by rubbing with a soft rag dipped in liquid ammonia.

Clean enameled bath tubs and marble wash bowls with kerosene, then rinse thoroughly with strong soapuds to remove the odor of the kerosene.

Organdies, chambrays and fine cambrics may be washed without danger of fading if they are washed first in clear water in which a cupful of very coarse salt has been dissolved.

In cleaning upholstered furniture do not beat directly upon the covering, as this helps to wear it out and scatters the dust in clouds, but lay towels or thick cloths on top and then do the beating. These cloths should be carefully gathered up and shaken out every little while.

Lamp chimneys which have been neglected and are badly discolored may be restored by cleaning with a rag dipped in methylated spirit. When all the stains are removed polish in the usual way.

Use arrowroot to thicken fruit juices. It cooks clearly and does not destroy the color, nor cloud the transparency of the fruit.

To clean stained tinware use borax; this brings the best results. A discolored teapot or coffee pot may be made to look like new by boiling in a strong solution of borax for a short time.

In planning the wardrobe women should never neglect to supply themselves with kitchen aprons. They should be selected with a view to utility, which means that they must well cover the front of the dress and have two good large pockets into which all sorts of things can be tumbled.

To economize on thread raise the foot of the machine to remove garment you are sewing, but before cutting the threads lower the foot again with top and lower threads toward the back. You can then cut the threads much shorter and the foot will hold them firmly in place with no trouble about the needle getting accidentally unthreaded. The work can easily be placed under the foot again and you will find the needle always threaded in place of always unthreaded.

When making a fricassee of fowl set it aside with the prepared sauce for two or three hours, so that the pieces of meat may become thoroughly impregnated with the sauce. This applies also to game or rabbit.

Windows often need cleaning when it is so cold that if water were used it would at once freeze on them. Try using paraffin instead; a rag dipped in it will clean the glass perfectly and give it a brightness impossible to obtain with water. Tissue paper makes a good polisher, or, in fact, almost any soft paper.

A GENTLE AND EFFECTIVE LAXATIVE

A mild, gentle and effective laxative is what people demand when suffering from constipation. Thousands swear by Dr. King's New Life Pills. ## QUICKLY THREW THE CASE OUT OF COURT

H. W. Haskell of 516 Bush street, has returned from Woodland, Yolo county, where he cleared himself beyond all question of the charge of petty embezzlement brought against him. Haskell is going to sue the man who swore to the complaint against him.

Haskell was taken from Santa Ana to Woodland, and he had no difficulty in gaining an order of discharge when the district attorney heard his story and the story of one witness.

Haskell said today: "Before coming to Santa Ana I lived at Woodland. On July 11, 1913, I acted as the agent of one J. D. Musgrove in the sale of some second-hand office furniture, having an agreement that I was to have as compensation all I could get over $10. I sold the articles to O. H. Siebel, a contracting plumber, for $15. I received a check for $5, and turned over to Musgrove Siebel's account for the remaining $10. Musgrove taking up on himself the responsibility of collecting the balance and allowing me to retain the check for $5 as commission. I left Woodland about the first of August, and about the 12th of August Musgrove demanded of Siebel the payment of the account, and not receiving the money, took away from him the articles I had sold. Now for some motive or other, upon the 18th of September, a warrant was sworn out charging me with the crime of embezzlement. The complaint set forth that I had sold the goods and converted the proceeds to my own use. Musgrove knew that I had never received the money, and at the same time he had the articles in question in his own possession, having taken them away from Siebel a whole month before swearing to the complaint against me. I was arrested at my residence here in Santa Ana the 24th of September, incarcerated in the Orange county jail for a period of four days, taken to Woodland, a distance of over 600 miles in the custody of the Yolo county sheriff, to stand trial for a crime that had never been committed.

"I have no words at my command to express the humiliation I felt when I found myself charged with a crime that is much worse than common theft, the crime of betraying a trust.

"By the quick action of the court in dismissing the case against me, I feel that I am vindicated. I expect to live in Santa

Would Smash the Trusts

Advices from Washington are to the effect that the President and his Attorney General have decided upon a policy, which is said to be very comprehensive, to enforce the Sherman act. This conclusion was reached at a conference on Wednesday, when the suits already instituted and those to be inaugurated were carefully considered. It is said that Attorney General McReynolds is dissatisfied with the results of the court decrees entered under the last administration, "dissolving" the Standard Oil and tobacco trusts. These combinations and their subsidiaries have been under investigation to determine whether or not they have been operating as independent units, as prescribed by the order of the United States Supreme Court, and the Attorney General holds the government should take action to make the Supreme Court decree effective.

Having decided upon this policy to "bust the trusts," the President will so hold affairs in check, it is said, so that there will be no disturbance to business if such a thing is possible. It is also stated that the policy adopted in the Union Pacific-Southern Pacific case is the administration's cure for the settlement of the so-called trust evil. In that case, the plan of dissolution adopted was designed particularly with a view to avoiding the results in the Standard Oil and tobacco trust cases.

Much the same policy, it is declared, is to be pursued in connection with the decree which Mr. McReynolds hopes to obtain as a result of the suits instituted against the anthracite coal trust, the telephone combination, and the photographic film trust and the bill he expects to file against the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad combination. It is understood that in all suits against trusts under this administration the courts will be asked to require the stocks of the constituent companies composing the combination to be disposed of to persons not stockholders or agents or otherwise under the direction or control of the parent company.

Railway Travel Safe

Few people realize how small is the chance of death or injury on the typical American railroad, says the Wall Street Journal. The following exhibit of the number of passengers killed or injured during recent years, as shown by reports of the Interstate Commerce Commission, is instructive:

	Killed	Inj'd	Total Pass.	Carried
1909	253	10,311	2,523,606	86,458
1908	381	11,556	2,335,983	77,017
1907	610	13,041	1,432,631	67,012
1906	559	10,764	2,222,691	74,131
1905	537	10,457	1,375,856	70,654
			2,275,123	74,736

The total number of passengers carried, according to the average of these six typical years, is equivalent to nearly 75,000 for each one injured in any way, and to more than 2,275,000 for each one killed. Figures, however, utterly fail to convey to the mind what a high degree of safety this represents; and therefore, in all seriousness, and for the sole purpose of picturing this degree of safety to the imagination, an illustration is in order.

A typical journey for all roads in the country is now 34 miles, and there are taken on the average 2,275,123 such journeys in safety to each journey which results fatally. If a man were to ride out these 2,275,123 safe journeys at two per day for each business day in the year, it would take him 3,792 years, would have had to start commuting in the year 1778 B. C., when Egypt was under the Shepherd Kings, and 458 years before Moses led the children of Israel through the Red Sea. That was about the time the future Assyrian empire was being settled by immigrants from Babylonia.

By 1184 B. C., when Achilles was dragging Hector three times round the walls of Troy, the commuter would have taken 356 rides, and would still have been less than one-sixth of the way toward his death. By 750 B. C., when Romulus was "regulating" Remus by modern methods, the commuter would have ridden 21,000,000 miles, and have had 56,300,000 yet to go. When Phidias, is 450 B. C., was carving the Olympian Zeus, our wayfarer would have been but one-third of the way toward his death; and even in the year 830 A. D., when Alfred the Great was letting the griddle cakes burn, this traveler would have spent the equivalent of 207 years on the trains running at 30 miles an hour, and would have had 87 years more of travel to spend before meeting his fatal accident. Should it require such a comparison as this to illustrate even to the politician the remarkable degree of safety attained by the typical American railroad?

Oil In Alberta

Oil prospects have been found in the province of Alberta, Canada, which are said to extend from the southern boundary of the province to the Arctic Circle. A. Fosberg Hamilton, an expert for a British syndicate who has been investigating the field is quoted thus:

"The fact that the limestone strata, in which oil will be found, is practically level all over the province makes it difficult to say which is the best place to start a bore, for the chances are almost even anywhere that the limestone strata is found. Before oil is discovered in paying quantities it is very probable that a large amount of money will have been spent in development work, although when once found in sufficient quantities the cost of the preliminary work will be insignificant."

"The presence of tar sands in large quantities in the Pelican Falls and Fort McMurray districts indicates that the oil has been present, but has been exhausted. However, oil may be present where the tar sands are covered with substances that prevent the evaporation and escape of gases. The intermediate must also exist, and these will prove of commercial value."

"A large supply on British territory would be of enormous value, particularly in view of the proposal to use fuel oil in the British navy. The adoption of oil fuel by railway and steamship companies promises to so increase the demand that unless some large fields are discovered the price of oil must necessarily advance largely."

Called On the Carpet.

The Pullman Company has been summoned to appear before the State Railroad Commission on November 19 to show cause why certain and numerous irregularities in the rules and regulations of the company which affect the comfort of the traveling public should not be modified or abolished. Disposing of berths indiscriminately and the tip system to porters are the chief causes for complaint under which the company is ordered.

Credit Corporation Incorporates

California is to have an Agricultural Credit Corporation the purpose of which is the guaranteeing of mortgages and issuing of participation certificates and debenture bonds against mortgages on California farm land. It is the plan of the company to make long-time loans to California farmers, repayable in small installments spread over a number of years, and at the most reasonable market rates. The organizers plan to conduct the company in such a manner as to make it of the greatest possible service in assisting the farmers of the state to obtain loans on their farms with which to assist in the development of the state and the increase of its agricultural products.

Eleven well known Californians have organized this corporation with a capital of $1,000,000. The incorporators are J. M. Henderson, Jr., president of the Sacramento Bank and the Ft. Sutter National Bank of Sacramento, and a member of the executive council of the California Bankers' Association; E. W. Wilson, manager of the International Banking Corporation; C. E. Grunsky, irrigation engineer; W. C. Barnard, Frank A. Somers, Amiel Hochheimer, Chas. H. Crocker and H. T. Corey of San Francisco; William Cavalier of Oakland; and Edwin A. Meserve of Los Angeles.

To aid the company in its business of loaning money to the agriculturists of the state an advisory board has been selected from its stockholders. The members of this board from Southern California are A. G. Kendall, president Farmers' Exchange National Bank, San Bernardino, and president Savings Bank of San Bernardino; C. S. Crookshank, cashier First National Bank, Santa Ana; W. T. Dunn, president First National Bank, Brawley, and president Imperial Savings Bank, Brawley; C. H. Eckert, rancher and director First National Bank, Holtville; Parker E. Baird, manager Imperial Title, Guarantee and Bonded Abstract Company, El Centro; Peter H. Updike, vice-pres. Exchange National Bank, Long Beach.

P. E. Hatch, president National Bank of Long Beach, vice-president Long Beach Savings Bank and Trust Company; T. H. Dudley, president Ocean Park Bank, Santa Monica; J. E. Wheat, president First National Bank, San Fernando; W. A. Johnstone, president First National Bank, San Dimas; Howard B. Smith, vice-president First National Bank, Colton; O. T. Roen, secretary Tujunga Water and Power Company, Los Angeles; John H. Bartle, president First National Bank, Monrovia; W. R. Powell, president First National Bank, Azusa; J. D. Reed, president Covina National Bank, Covina; M. F. Palmer, cashier Commercial National Bank, Upland; E. K. Benchley, president Farmers and Merchants' National Bank, Fullerton; Henry Newby, president Pasadena National Bank, Pasadena; A. C. Abbott, president Pomona State Bank, Pomona; F. W. Hadley, president First National Bank, Whittier.

This is the first company of the kind formed in the United States, and it is incorporated under the provisions of a law passed by the late legislature, which provides for the supervision and regulation of mortgage insurance companies. The corporation is under the supervision of the State Insurance Commissioner. In forming the company the incorporators availed themselves of the report made by the Agricultural Commission of the United States, a body composed of delegates from thirty of the states and experts from the governmental departments who visited the old world and made a thorough study of the methods in vogue to aid the agriculturist in the way of loans.

Coming Bankers' Convention

The coming convention of the American Bankers' Association, which will convene in Boston October 6 to 10, promises to be the most largely attended convention of financiers ever held in the United States. There are 14,000 banks that are members of the Association, and the larger majority, it is said, will be represented at the meeting. That the officials of the Association are convinced of an extraordinary attendance is disclosed by letters from bankers throughout the country. The following are typical:

A. B. Hepburn, chairman of the currency commission of the American Bankers' Association: "I should think that the pending currency measure, with its compulsory provision requiring all national banks to join the Federal reserve banks, is sufficient motive to induce all banks to be represented at the coming bankers' convention."

W. E. Knox, controller of the Bowery Savings Bank, New York: "It is desirable that the bankers appear in force at their annual convention and demonstrate by their attitude toward currency legislation that they have no ax to grind."

Arthur Reynolds, acting president of the American Bankers' Association and president of the Des Moines National Bank: "The pending currency legislation is of the most vital interest to every banker and business man. At no time has the necessity for discussion and co-operation been so imperative as now."

Joseph Chapman, vice-president Northwestern National Bank, Minneapolis: "The most important financial legislation in fifty years is being discussed in congress, and its effect upon the business interests of the country and the bankers may be monumental. The bankers should get together and try to formulate some sentiment that will be helpful in getting the kind of legislation that the country needs."

James K. Lynch, vice-president, First National Bank of San Francisco: "The bankers of the country should voice their disapproval of the objectionable features of the Federal Reserve Act, which include administrative control, note circulation, reserves, excessive capitalization and the compulsion on national banks to contribute capital, to the enterprise without adequate return."

Easy Money For Heinze

Nine suits have been filed in the New York Supreme Court by the Riverside, N. Y. bank which was controlled by Otto Heinze, & Co. to recover $91,467. The complaints show that in the summer of 1908, when the Heinze concern was hard pressed for funds, the bank loaned a total of $535,000 on nine notes, the largest of which was $200,000. When the notes were due the firm could not pay, the security was sold, but in every case the sale brought less than the amount of the loan. The total deficit is the amount sued for. In the case of one note for $50,000 the complaint shows that only $434 was paid on it.

PROBE ALLEGED R. R. PASSES ABUSE

Bribing of Shippers by Colorado Railroads Subject of Federal Trial

PUEBLO, Colo., Oct. 6.—Whether certain railroads of Colorado gave free transportation, either state or interstate, to influence shippers is the point on which the debating trials of the railroads and shippers, which opened here today, will decide. The government expects to prove that the Denver & Rio Grande, and Colorado & Southern railroads regulated the issue of their passes so that large shippers were favored in this respect.

The Portland Cement Company and the Victor American Fuel Company in the same cases are charged with having accepted rebates and favors of this nature. The government's witnesses will be employees of the companies involved.

The trials are the result of an inquiry by the Interstate Commerce Commission into the abuse of passes given by Colorado railroads last spring. It was shown then that hundreds of free tickets were given to shippers and that politicians openly solicited passes. Some judges, including some from the state supreme bench, were alleged to have requested or accepted such favors.

QUESTION MARKS AND MORE QUESTION MARKS

"The Traffic," a show that has been endorsed by many club women and public officials as a show that people ought to see for its warnings, was played at the Grand Opera House last night by a company that did it full justice.

Much of the agony and bitterness, a glimpse at the degradation, a portrayal of the methods of heartless wretches—much that goes to make daily history in white slavery—were shown on the stage.

So well done is it, that the person in the audience wants to help out the hearts out of the scoundrels. But many a person will beg to differ with the club women and public officials who have endorsed the play. To the thoughtful person there are lessons galore, but then the thoughtful person is not so likely to need the warning.

The flashy dress and reckless life may have its appeal to the thoughtless, though portrayed in no attractive form in "The Traffic."

Need one go to the bedside of a dying consumptive to take warning against wrong living? Need one go to the poor farm and sit there to ruminate upon the lessons to be gained from the broken down old men whose energies were dissipated in youth, or whose lives are stories of misfortune and neglect by relatives? Need we be shown the hideous things of life when there is so much of joy and gladness? "The Traffic" is not to be judged alone by the lessons it teaches. Heaven knows the world is full of lessons that we all see and many of us heed not! Is it because of the lessons it teaches that "The Traffic" goes with audiences? Is not it because it runs close to the borderline of things that awaken morbid curiosity? Does not it go for the same reason that other plays picturing the underworld in more attractive form, are successful? The stage is full of that kind of plays, and if there is any good excuse for them other than that they draw crowds—the excuse of the Almighty Dollar—that excuse for existence is not always readily apparent.

NERVOUS DYSPEPSIA, GAS OR INDIGESTION

"Pape's Diapiesin" Settles Sour, Upset Stomachs in Five Minutes

Time it! Pape's Diapiesin will digest anything you eat and overcome a sour, gassy or out-of-order stomach surely within five minutes. If your meals don't sit comfortably, or what you eat lies like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of indigestion.

Get from your pharmacist a fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapiesin and take a dose just as soon as you can. There will be no sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heartburn, fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach, nausea, debilitating headaches, dizziness or intestinal griping. This will all go and, besides, there will be no sour food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diapiesin is a certain cure for out-of-order stomachs, because it takes hold of your food and digests it just the same as if your stomach wasn't there.

Relief in five minutes from all stomach misery is waiting for you at any drug store. These large fifty-cent cases contain enough "Pape's Diapiesin" to keep the entire family free from stomach disorders and indigestion for many months. It belongs in your home.—Advertisement.

TAILOR GUILTY
BUT SENTENCE WITHHELD

Hugo Knappe Used Unnecessary and Violent Language to a Woman

Hugo Knappe, a tailor with a shop at the corner of Church and Sycamore, should be careful henceforth in the selection of his language, even when angry. He used too many expressive words in declarations made by him when he became exasperated with Mrs. Malcolm Lloyd, a customer who disagreed with him as to the character of some of his work. Lloyd had the tailor arrested, and this morning the trial was held before Justice Cox.

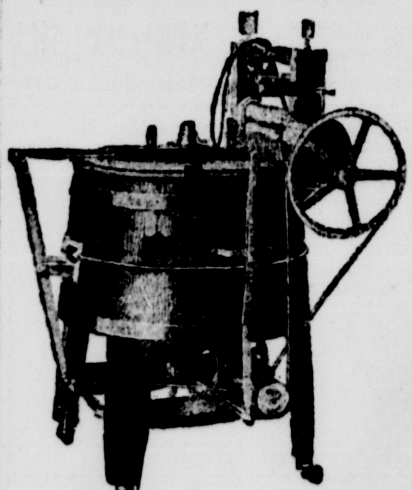

Justice Cox found that the language used by Knappe constituted a disturbance of the peace, and accordingly he found Knappe guilty. The justice told Knappe not to do anything of the kind again, and sentence was withheld.

was the only one not represented. Coach Ratcliffe was elected president; Prof. Millikan of Anaheim, vice-president, and Clarence Beebe of the same school, secretary and treasurer. The main order of business was arranging a basketball schedule for both boys' and girls' teams. It was decided to give the girls a two-game series with each team, the same as last year, and the boys a one-game schedule with a three-game final between the two highest teams, as is done in base ball.

The question of officials brought out a lot of discussion but the old system of having the "odd" school furnish the referees for the other schools was finally adopted.

The invitation extended by Coach Ratcliffe on behalf of Santa Ana High to the other schools to hold the next county track and field meet on the new high school athletic field was accepted and the second Saturday of March set as the date.

COMPANY TO MAKE CARBURETOR THAT IS DECLARED GOOD

Local Men Are Interested in
New Automobile
Inventions

A new manufacturing concern to be known as the Duplex Distillate Carburetor Co., has recently been incorporated, with Santa Ana as its headquarters and principal place of business.

The incorporators are H. H. Kelly, manager of the Cadillac Garage, F. E. Keiser, a former shoe merchant of Santa Ana, J. C. Metzger, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, August Gaenther and L. J. McKone. They are capitalized at $50,000 and the stock is fully subscribed.

The company owns patents covering a carburetor which burns low grade fuels, distillate, kerosene and oil toppings, and the advantages claimed are that it will give a greater efficiency on a fuel costing 7 cents per gallon, than the ordinary carburetor gives on 15c to 20c per gallon fuel.

A number of the Duplex carburetors are now being used successfully both here and in Los Angeles, and the company is also receiving orders from individual auto owners for a Duplex just as soon as they can be delivered.

Mr. McKone, the inventor of the Duplex, recently made a trip to the East, where he demonstrated his carburetor to several manufacturers of cars. Everywhere he was given encouragement and he has several prospects of selling carburetors to manufacturers to be installed on their output of cars.

The company has patterns and tools for making the carburetor parts and machinery has been ordered for making them on a large scale. For the present the factory will be located in the Cadillac Garage, 215 North Main street. A Cadillac car equipped with a Duplex carburetor has been entered in the Los Angeles to Phoenix road race. Inventor McKone will be the driver. The car is now being stripped in the Cadillac Garage and will soon be ready for a tryout.

He Opposes Coming of Competitor—Vegetable Man in Trouble

NEWPORT BEACH, Oct. 6.—The State Railroad Commission has given notice that a public hearing will be held in this city next Wednesday before Commissioner Edgerton to consider the petition of the Pacific Light & Power Corporation to be allowed to use the franchise recently awarded to that company by the board of trustees of this city. In the petition the Pacific Light & Power Corporation states that public convenience and necessity require the exercise of the rights granted by the franchise.

The application will be opposed by C. H. L. Christ, who has an electric light plant here and which he claims is adequate, but a number of the leading citizens of the city are preparing data showing that the service given by the local company is poor and asking that the Pacific Light & Power Corporation be allowed to enter the field.

The Newport Beach trustees recently granted a forty-year franchise to the power company. Chee Foo, a Chinese vegetable peddler, is in the city jail for peddling vegetables. The Chinaman says the city license collector puts the money collected for licenses in his pocket and he refuses to contribute further to such a poor cause. His team has been put in a livery stable until such a time as the Chinaman changes his mind and pays his license. He is very defiant and says "Me go San Quentin; me no care."

W. M. Appel of Los Angeles, and a brother of the well known attorney, was fined $10 in the city recorder's court Saturday morning for striking P. W. Beckwith of Balboa with his fist. Beckwith is manager of the Balboa pavilion and an employee of Beckwith hauled Appel and his wife to the upper bay on a duck boat. When the boat failed to return when Appel expected it, he became angry and returned to Balboa by way of Newport and struck Beckwith.

His Previous Good Record

D. E. Hindman Pleads Guilty to Burglary in the Second Degree

W. E. Davis has every reason to be have himself. The rules by which he must live are strict, but Davis may count himself thankful that he is not now on the way to San Quentin.

This morning he was sentenced to fifteen years in San Quentin. Judge West then placed him on probation. Davis' previous good record helped him out. His parents and wife and his wife's mother, who is also the mother of the girl whom Davis was convicted of having wronged, went on the witness stand and said that his offense had been forgiven by his wife's relatives, and they would help him keep his terms of probation.

Didn't Last Long
Phil L. Hennacy kept his promise to refrain from drink just long enough to leave the courthouse and find some liquor. He may have thought Judge West's probation order was a joke when on Saturday the judge allowed him to go. The judge ordered him committed to the inmates' asylum at Patton, and withheld the commitment. This was about 11 o'clock.

At 1 o'clock of that same day Hennacy was intoxicated and fighting in the pool room opposite the postoffice. The officers nabbed him, and this morning Hennacy, with not a word to say, stood up before Judge West and was ordered to Patton. Deputy Dean took him up.

To Pay $25 a Month
Today Judge Thomas signed an interlocutory decree of divorce in the action of Irene Hill against Charles E. Hill. Hill is ordered to pay $25 a month alimony.

Pleaded Guilty
This morning when D. E. Hindman went into the superior courtroom and looked upon the array of witnesses, he wilted. He concluded that he would be found guilty of burglary if he stood trial, and that by pleading guilty he might stand a better chance of drawing a light sentence.

So Hindman pleaded guilty to burglarizing the Chandler cottage at East Newport last spring. That was but one of several burglaries alleged against him. He seemed to have been making a business of it. The evidence against Hindman was strong in the preliminary examination when an old hat found in the Chandler cottage was identified as Hindman's.

Asks for $100
The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals through its president and secretary, J. C. Joplin and G. A. Whidden, today petitioned the Board of Supervisors for $100 with which to carry on the work of the society. A communication states that the society has had many cases of cruelty to attend to recently, particularly among the Mexicans, some of whom continue to use the horses when they are weak and sick.
